EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Max Moskowitz on May 22, 2007.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE CLAIMS

In claim 1, line 8, replace "incorporated in" with --disposed at a distal end of--.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claim 1 is amended by Applicant in the response filed May 9, 2007, to recite, inter alia, that the rotary shaft (of the rotation mechanism) is operable to rotate without allowing a non-rotational movement of the instrument. Claim 1 is further amended above to recite that the rotation mechanism is disposed at a distal end of the support unit. Although Mizuno et al. (U.S. Pat. 6,120,433) and Takahashi (U.S. Pat. 5,689,365) were previously cited to met the limitations of claim 1, before being amended above, the combinations of elements in these references required the rotation mechanism to be at the proximal end of the structure that the Examiner equated to the support unit (note previous Office Action, paper number 20060727). These references fail to teach the claimed rotation mechanism, nor the specific movement of the instrument caused by such rotation mechanism at the distal end of the support unit. Since no other prior art reference of record explicitly teaches or fairly suggests the combination of elements including all limitations of the rotation mechanism as now claimed in claim 1, this claim is allowable over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
